Dear Mike Matisa,

I'd like to thank you for a wonderful video forensic tool. We started using Video Detective in 2006. The day after we received it I used it on a convenient store robbery. Most of the convenient stores in the area have upgraded to DVR recording devices. With this new technology all of the systems are different and no one knows how to use them. With the Video Detective I was able to go directly to the scene and record the video right from their DVR security system onto the Video Detective. I was then able to print still images of the suspect and distribute them to the patrol officers and provide the media with video and still images. All of this within just a short amount of time and from one unit. Within a day an arrest was made.

The unit is so versatile that it can import from almost any media source right to the hard drive. The real-time image stabilization is unreal. We've used it with on-body covert video and aerial surveillance. We feed it real-time into the image stabilizer and watch the perfectly stabilized video. The unit has been so successful that defense attorneys have just thrown their hands up when given video evidence with Video Detective. We've also had request from local field offices for state and federal agencies to use Video Detective because current methods of video processing is time consuming. Thanks again for making my job easier.

Respectfully,
Detective Ron Weber
